Welcome to SHOUT

We aim to Strengthen Innovation Capacity and Transformational Role of HEIs, SMEs and NGOs when dealing with complex problems presented in Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and developing innovative sustainable solutions through inter-sectoral cooperation model and enhanced sharing of knowledge between different stakeholders, Social Sciences and Humanities (SSH) graduates and researchers employability.

Expected Results

- Three innovative educational programmes (educational materials and webinars) for SSH academics, research support staff, SSH students and SSH professionals, in order to improve their knowledge, skills and competences in communication and responsiveness to SDGs challenges, entrepreneurship, sustainable innovation and research-oriented mind-set.

- A replicable research mission-based traineeship scheme and problem-focused learning approach where students, professors, and practitioners will work together on joint solutions in the challenges of SDGs (i.e. through the professor-student-practitioner research traineeship schemes).
- A self-sustaining SSH research and innovation HUB where HEIs, SMEs and NGOs will be able to exchange knowledge, facilitate further cooperation and strengthen joint sustainable innovation solutions on the European level.

The complex global challenges that we are facing today cannot be explained by physical, environmental and biological causes alone; humans play a central role. Understanding the human factor is fundamental and can only be achieved by investigating the historical, cultural and communication processes in which human life is embedded. Thus, it is crucial to:

- improve visibility of Social Sciences and Humanities research and strengthen its impact on broader socio-economic environment, especially in the field of sustainable transformations/innovations;
- strengthen collaboration among different sectors, improve networking channels and bridge the gap between research and practice.
